TE POU HONO KI MAHI MARAE

Marae management

This course will enable you to broaden your skills in marae operations, management, financial literacy, leadership building, strategic planning, and the administration of your marae in the context of cultural, social, educational, and economic development.

TE POU HONO KI TOI

Māori art forms

Research and practice the traditional arts of your ancestors. If you seek to be engaged and broaden your skills in mahi toi for your marae, this course looks at the cultural and artistic development of whānau, on the marae in artforms such as tāniko, raranga, whatu, tukutuku, whakairo, kōwhaiwhai and tā moko.

TE POU HONO KI TAIAO

Traditional resource management

Lead and sustain taiao initiatives in your community reflecting on environmental development practices of your marae, hapū and iwi. This course looks at kaitiakitanga in relation to Atua Māori, key landmarks, protection considerations, resource management, customary uses, and Te Ao Māori connections. This course also includes rongoā Māori and how this knowledge is imparted.

TE POU HONO KI WAIRUA

Exploring spiritual practices

Learn about wairua practices, the origin, customs, and traditions pertaining to those practices. This course also addresses topics such as leadership, and the importance of succession planning to ensure the longevity of the practice.

TE POU HONO KI MARAE ĀTEA

Rituals and protocols of marae

This course will enable you to teach, guide and support whānau in pōwhiri, karanga, whaikōrero and mōteatea according to your own whānau, hapū, iwi, waka traditional practices and knowledge sources.
